

Leadership and Personality Development: Digital and Personal

Your challenge /

- How can I develop my executive team on both personal and leadership levels in the crisis, regardless of location?
- How do I succeed in giving orientation, stability and continuity to people in the company?
- How can I support my managers in promoting and challenging their team in a spirit of high entrepreneurial commitment?

Our solution /

- Digital learning platform for managers to develop leadership competencies
- Focus on personal development and underlying psychological mechanisms
- Online access to leadership knowledge developed over 30 years and continuously tested in numerous workshops

Your benefit /

- Targeted, sustainable and individual development of your team's leadership competencies
- Better leadership of others and yourself in this challenging time and beyond
- Learning environment supported by the web and apps for sustainable leadership and personality development from home

“How can I grow from home?”

In cooperation with the University of St.Gallen (HSG), Manres has compiled a best-of of its tools in the areas of personality and leadership development in a digital format.